PRESIDENT TRUMAN GIVES CONGRESS BLUEPRINT FOR AMERICAN SELF-SACRIFICE WHICH IS REQUIRED TO MEET "REALITIES" OF THREAT OF WORLD WAR III

Says Nation's Economy Can Withstand Impact Under "Limited Controls"

AN ECONOMIC REPORT

Asks "No-Strike" Pledge; Prompt Action on 10½ Billion Request

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, July 26—President Truman gave Congress today a blueprint for American self-sacrifice required to meet the "realities" of the Korean conflict and the threat of a Communist-fomented World War III. The chief executive said the nation's economy, now at an all-time peak, can withstand the impact of the present emergency under "limited controls but warned that he will ask full wartime powers should the situation become more serious. The President, in his mid-year economic report, asked:

1. A "no-strike" pledge by labor in vital industries and assurance that there will be no inflationary wage demands.

2. Prompt action on his request for 10 and one-half billion dollars in new defense funds, five billion dollars in new taxes, and authority to impose industrial rationing of strategic materials plus limited credit controls.

3. Complete national unity in the sacrifice of certain luxuries, the payment of higher taxes, and concentration on "production and more production."

GI MIXES IT UP WITH A BAYONET

STIRRING A STEW in South Korea, this U. S. soldier finds his bayonet is a mighty handy weapon, even when it comes to preparing a pot of Mulligan. Although the bayonet was intended to wipe out the enemy, the weapon is just as often called upon to open cans, dig holes, or just stir a quick dish. (Telenews Newsreel Photo from International)

MORRISVILLE MAN INVENTS CLOSET POLE

Considered Great Boon To Average Housekeeper In Solving Problem

NEW POLE PORTABLE

MORRISVILLE, July 18 — Arthur E. Henley came up against the problem of fitting a closet pole into a closet once too often.

Like many another homeowner he used to measure, and cut, and trim, and like most homeowners he'd never get it to fit quite right. So the 44-year-old tool and die maker decided to solve the perennial problem and came up with one of the greatest inventions since man first started stuffing clothes in closets—the "Henley Handy Hanger."

This new telescopic pole is portable and interchangeable in any size closet. "You can adjust this pole to fit any closet from 28 to 48 inches," Henley says pridefully. "The end cleats fasten into the shelf rails, making it next to impossible for the pole to fall."

The problem has been plaguing Henley for "quite a while," and he finally decided to do something

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

President Truman yesterday asked Congress to raise taxes immediately by $5,000,000,000 to help meet the military costs of the Korean campaign. Under the Chief Executive's proposal, individuals would pay three and corporations one and a half billion dollars of the new taxes. The remaining $500,000,000 would come from provisions closing "loopholes" in the present income tax structure.

Mr. Truman was authorized by Congress to retain 295,000 men now on active duty in the armed services for a year beyond the normal expiration, due during the coming 12 months, of their enlistments.

Secretary of Defense Johnson declared after a conference with Congressional leaders on the Korean situation that "we'll have a different story a month from now."

North Korean armies seized Yongdong, on the road from Taejon to Taegu, and maintained their pressure on the retreating United States forces, who were putting up a stubborn defense. New gains by the enemy on this central front and also along the southwestern end of the peninsula had pushed the defenders back into a wide beachhead area about 90 miles deep and 95 miles wide.

Negotiations were on between the United Nations and the Sperry Gyroscope Company to return a part of the Lake Success headquarters to the company to allow it to augment war production.

The nations allied under the North Atlantic Treaty established a permanent steering committee that will tackle immediately as its first task the problem of fortifying the Atlantic nations to meet any aggression. France proposed that the defense of the Atlantic community be financed by a common fund. Each nation would contribute to this fund according to its national income.

Senate-House conferees on the compromise Social Security Bill agreed that the present payroll tax of one and one-half per cent on both employers and employees would not be increased before Jan. 1, 1954. However, the tax payments will be on the first $3,600 of pay instead of the present first $3,000.

Girl Who Fled "Reds" Is Granted 4-Year Scholarship

D. 3, was among 21 Philadelphia area high school graduates announced as winners of four-year open scholarships to Temple University by Dr. Millard E. Gladfelter, university provost.

Scholarships were awarded on the basis of examinations held recently at the university.

Miss Zeltins, a Latvian, is a graduate of Quakertown high school.

She invariably concluded her talks by saying she was trying to be a good American because "America has been good to me."

FAMILY DRIVEN OUT BY EARLY FIRE TODAY

James P. Walsh and Family Are Routed by Early Morning Blaze

DAMAGE ONLY SLIGHT

NEWPORTVILLE, July 26—A fire this morning routed seven persons, including four children, from a newly-bought home at Terrace and Tennessee avenues in Bensalem township.

James P. Walsh, who recently moved here from Philadelphia, his wife, a visiting friend, and the four children were driven from the bungalow in their night clothes at 6.30 a. m. when a fire broke out in one of the bedrooms.

Walsh ran to the Newport fire house and turned in the alarm. William Dettmer, chief of the Newport fire company, was awakened by Mrs. Walsh's screams.

Firemen from the Newport and Newportville companies fought the blaze for a half-hour before it was extinguished. Damage estimated at $100 was confined to the bedroom, two beds and mattresses being burned.

Urge Aeromodeleers To Attend Flying Session

Bristol Aeromodeleers are urged to turn out at this evenings' model flying session to be held on the model airport on route 13. Attendance at late sessions has been getting so poor that club leaders are getting concerned, it is stated. Only a few of the clubs' more active members have been attending these sessions during the past few weeks.

Points for prizes to be awarded for participation in these activities have been added and those with the highest scores are: John Longbottom, Richard Morgan, David Baker, Gilbert Engel, Albert Abrams, Jr., Robert Coia, Donald Moyer, William Kopack, Paul Karp, Thomas Pearson and Phillip Masgai. Few of the club members have taken advantage of the point system by flying for additional points, it is added. Such a thing can be done by notifying one of the club leader members that a member will do certain maneuvers with his model and he will have his flight judged and be given a certain amount of points. So far, points have been mostly awarded for consistent participation in club activities. Only a few more weeks remain to attain points. Over $50 in prizes will be given to the winners.

CROWD OF 300 WITNESSES HOUSING OF NEW SEAGRAVE PUMPER BY WM. PENN FIRE CO., HULMEVILLE; COUNTY FIRE MARSHAL SPEAKS

HULMEVILLE, July 26—Before a crowd of approximately 300, formal housing of the new Seagrave pumper took place at William Penn Fire Company station, last evening. This auspicious event was preceded by a parade throughout the streets of the borough, with visiting firemen and their equipment taking part.

Chief speaker of the evening was Bucks County Fire Marshal Robert Graham, of Chalfont; with a number of other guests and local firemen also participating in the program.

Serving as master of ceremonies was Chief of William Penn Co., Albert Tomlinson. He called upon the Rev. Edward W. Stiess, pastor of Neshamony Methodist Church, for the invocation; and George R. Bilger, president of Hulmeville borough council, for the welcome. Said Mr. Bilger in extending greetings to the group: "Without you all we couldn't put this on. Thank you for coming." Samuel J. Illick, former burgess of Hulmeville, and former president of borough council, also spoke briefly. "The council here is composed of a fine group of men, who are cooperating with residents of the borough." He congratulated the fire company for its splendid work and upon securing the new apparatus. Mr. Illick called to mind many of the firemen who for years have been actively engaged in protecting property. "They are always on call to serve their community." He congratulated the company and the borough on having a fine, modern piece of fire-fighting equipment, and in mentioning that the by-laws of the company prevent sale or use of liquor on the fire company premises added: "This is a fine thing to be embodied in your by-laws. People want men with clear brains to aid them when fires occur."

Thomas K. Schatt, trustee of Bucks Co. Firemen's Association, and former chief of the local company, who served in that capacity for a quarter of a century, gave briefly the history of pieces of apparatus owned by the firemen, starting from the time of the old "Billy Penn" pumper (1837) down to the present time. The pumper of 1837 vintage, made in England, was on display last night alongside the newest piece of equipment. He mentioned the first list of officers for the company, George Harrison being the first president; there being no chief, but four assistant chiefs. The history informed how in 1878 decision was made to put the old "Billy Penn" in "first class condition." That four horses were required to pull a two-tank apparatus, purchased in 1895, was another interesting bit of information. Later a Simplex automobile was purchased and attempts made to use this as a tow car for the heavy tank wagon.

RAID HUGE STILL IN UPPER BUCKS CO.

Federal and State Agents Seize Elaborate Distillery Set-Up

1614 GALLONS DAILY

PIPERSVILLE, July 26—Federal and state liquor agents yesterday seized an elaborate distillery set up in a 125-year-old barn that could produce alcohol on a commercial basis, turning out up to 1614 gallons a day.

Edward C. Dougherty, district supervisor of the Federal Alcohol Tax Unit, said that the still had been closed down for some time because no sugar was available.

However, the still was ready to resume operations last night after 11,500 pounds of sugar had been bought on the New York black market. Working at capacity, the still could beat the government out of $14,500 in taxes daily by not paying the $9 rate for gallon.

Last night's raid and the arrest of a Philadelphia man cut short the operations.

The man arrested, Carl Greenfield, 42, of Stanley st. near Cumberland, had been observed over a period of weeks by agents who saw him hauling materials to the farm and bringing out the finished product in five-gallons cans.

Determined to strike yesterday, three Federal agents under Francis V. Wills, investigator in charge of the local ATU office, and agents of the Pennsylvania State Liquor Board trailed Greenfield to the farm of Ralph Segetes, on Pipersville R. D. 1, in Tinicum township, about 12 miles north of Doylestown.

Greenfield was alone in the barn when the raiders closed in at 4 p. m. Dougherty later said it was one of the largest plants of its kind ever seized here. It consisted of a "St.

LATIN AMERICA'S ROLE IN 3RD WORLD WAR WOULD BE TO FURNISH NAVAL AND AIR BASES FOR ALLIED ARMED FORCES; ALSO PATROL DUTY

What may be Latin America's role in a third world war and what do our southern neighbors provide for the GI now in action on the Korean peninsula?

In the following article, the second of two, International News Service Correspondent David J. Wilson in Buenos Aires provides the answers.

By David J. Wilson

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

BUENOS AIRES, July 26—(INS)—Latin America's role in a third world war would be to furnish naval and air bases for the Allied armed forces.

North America's southern neighbors would patrol the Atlantic and Pacific areas around the continent.

Their potentialities are pointed up today by the current reaction to the United Nations' plea for additional ground forces to supoprt Gen. Douglas MacArthur's campaign in South Korea.

Argentina has offered troops. The extent of their participation—if at all—will depend upon MacArthur's specific requirements.

There is, perhaps, a more important role for Latin America—the supply of raw materials.

Hundreds of Latin American products comprise a vital part of GI equipment and provide the soldier in the field with the wherewithal of his daily life.

His boots, belts and straps may be made with leather from Argentina and Uruguay, tanned with "quebracho" from Paraguay.

Woolen underclothes and topcoats come from sheep raised on the Argentine and Chilean Andes.

Steel weapons he uses are manufactured from Brazilian iron, hardened with Brazilian manganese and Argentine tungsten.

Americans Make Surprise Counter-Attack

Tokyo—Fresh American troops, closely supportd by land-based and carrier planes, charged into action in Korea's southwest corner today with a surprise counter-attack that halted an eastward Communist drive within 70 miles west of vital Pusan. Entering the southwest sector for the first time, the U. S. Infantry forces were reported to have recaptured flaming Hadong, a road center taken by the North Korean Fourth Division Tuesday. The new troops that reversed the Communist smash toward Pusan, which threatened to slice across the deep rear of the First Cavalry and 25th Infantry Divisions fighting in the central and northeast sectors, were stated to be part of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Far East Command. F-80 jet fighters of the Fifth Air Force pummeled Hadong with rocket bombs as the American troops uncorked their surprise counter-attack.

Likely to Accept Thailand's Offer of Troops

Washington—Washington diplomats expect Thailand's offer of ground troops for the Korean war to be accepted as proof that the Far Eastern conflict is not strictly a "white man's war." At the same time these sources said that the invasion threat to Formosa makes it less likely that Nationalist Chinese troops will be used in Korea. Turkey, meanwhile, has offered to supply 4,500 ground troops.

FORMER DETECTIVE OF COUNTY DIES ON VISIT HERE

Anthony Russo Succumbs To Heart Attack in The Nazareth Hospital

STRICKEN ON SUNDAY

Was Visiting Here to Make Settlement for Sale of His Property

A former Bucks County detective and well known resident of Bucks County died this morning, when Anthony Russo succumbed as the result of a heart attack in the Nazareth Hospital, Philadelphia. Mr. Russo was stricken Sunday and taken immediately to the hospital. He had been visiting his daughter, here, while making settlement for the sale of his property. Mrs. Russo remained at their newly established home in Florida and upon being notified of her husband's death boarded an airplane for the north.

Mr. Russo was born in Italy Sept. 29, 1890. Came to U. S. in 1899, and to Bristol at that time. He was the son of the late Frank and Mary Russo, and attended Bristol public schools for one year, and went to work at age of 11 in the mill of Edward T. Steel, earning $1.25 a week. He later secured employment at the Wm. H. Grundy & Company mill, then Corona Leather and Bristol Patent Leather Co. He was married on Feb. 8, 1921, to Anna Missera. Three children were born of this marriage.

Mr. Russo was active in local affairs and organized the Italian Welfare Society in 1923. He was the first president. For four years he headed the Italian-American Citizens' Club, and taught Americanization to prospective citizens. He was instrumental in having hundreds of Italians made citizens of the U. S., for which he never received one penny of compensation. He was appointed state health officer for townships surrounding Bristol borough on Mar. 4, 1922, and served until April 1, 1930. He was then appointed detective for the County of Bucks. Was a probation officer for the Bucks county court, and previous to his appointment as county detective acted as court interpreter for 11 years. He was instrumental in the solving of several murders and robberies in the county, and was the star witness in the murder case of John Tilotta.

December 1, 1948, he was released from his duties as Bucks County detective due to his health. A few months ago he and his wife established a new home in Florida.

He was a past president of the Police Chiefs Association of Southeastern Pennsylvania, and had served upon the law committee for four years of the Pennsylvania Chiefs of Police Association and served on the executive committee.

During the war period Mr. Russo was active in promoting war bonds sales among his fellow-countrymen. He was recognized outside of Bucks County for his ability in solving crimes and bringing to justice those guilty.

Mr. Russo was stricken Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Angelo Niccols, 718 Wood street. He died this morning about 2.55 in Nazareth Hospital, Phila.

Mr. and Mrs. Russo moved to Florida, taking up their residence at Coral Gables, last December, after Mr. Russo had sold his interest in the cafe in which he was a partner with William Seibold, State Road, Croydon.

The survivors are his wife, Anna; daughter, Mrs. Angelo Niccols, sons, Louis and Frank, all of Bristol; and three grandchildren.

Sudden Death Occurs Here For Mrs. Wm. Veitch, Sr.

Death of Mrs. Nellie Veitch, widow of William J. Veitch, Sr., occurred suddenly last evening at her home, 793 Corson street. Cause of death is attributed to coronary thrombosis.

It is stated that Mrs. Veitch had worked yesterday, she being employed at the Philco Corp. plant, in Croydon. Last evening she was in the kitchen of her home, when other members of the family heard her fall. When they reached her they found she had succumbed.

Born here, Mrs. Veitch is survived by a daughter, Mrs. James Eagan, a son, William J. Veitch, Jr., and a sister, Mrs. Hannah Peoples, all of Bristol; also by two grandchildren.

PSYCHOLOGY OF HOARDING

People by nature are hoarders. They step up their hoarding when they are afraid of the future. The old-fashioned term for it was thrift.

People at the moment are afraid of the future. They remember vividly the days of World War II when the most commonplace articles were difficult to obtain and when ration stamps were necessary for the purchase of many staples.

It was only a few years ago that the fear of shortages was completely dispelled and consumers could actually make choices. It was a relief and joy to go from store to store before making a decision.

But now the old buying scare has once more hit the American people. Reassurances from Washington that rationing is not imminent does not seem to allay the fears of the people, many of whom remember statements about the roseate prospects for peace a few days before the shooting started.

The result of this scare is obvious. Shelves are being emptied as rapidly as they are filled. Prices are going up in some lines. Tire companies announce increases in their commodity—and that sparks a fresh outburst of buying. The spirit of hoarding has become so contagious that it is spreading to the more cautious and steady minded. Actually, no technique has been developed to stem the tide. When a stampede of this sort gets under way, there's little that can stop it.

What the government needs at this point is a sales promoter with a good imagination to move the huge stocks of foodstuffs that have been bought up to hold the price line and which fill caves, bins and warehouses. If the 100,000,000 pounds of butter the government has on hand were moved to consumers' refrigerators, the government would realize millions of dollars and the people would receive the benefit of a hoard that otherwise will be dumped eventually.

NO LONGER A PARADE

There come times in every war when ground is given to enable an army to fight from a more advantageous position. Taejon seems to have been a case in point.

Of course, the Americans did not deliberately abandon the city—but their main purpose was to inflict the utmost damage upon the enemy while retiring gradually to a new defensive line.

The battle of Taejon revealed that North Koreans have lost much of their earlier advantage in manpower and equipment and can no longer look upon this enterprise as the simple parade it was in the beginning.

As more and more American forces are brought into action, and as delayed shipments of materiel arrive, increasingly better news from the front may be expected. General MacArthur has no doubts about the final result. Most Americans will string along with him rather than with leftists and pessimists at home who predict U. S. forces will be driven out of Korea in a matter of days.

Latin America's Role In 3rd World War Would Be To Furnish Naval, Air Bases made with Chilean saltpeter.

Tin that goes into manufacturing the cans which package the food, comes from Bolivia.

A large proportion of the food itself is of Latin American origin. Buly-beef from Argentina, chocolate from Brazil, sugar from Cuba, coffee from Colombia are but a few.

Venezuelan oil, Amazon rubber, Chilean copper and scores of lesser known products such as Argentine linseed oil for anti-rust paint, Brazilian mica for equipment and others, are some of the vital raw and strategic materials furnished by Latin America.

The United States was reported to have sizeable stockpiles of many of those items but increased purchases are expected to begin soon.

Within 60 days at the utmost after Washington begins large-scale stockpiling, those experts believed, most Latin American raw materials will begin rolling northward.

Argentine wheat and wool, Chilean saltpeter and copper, Brazilian manganese and mica, etc., are mainly dependent on transportation.

Huge cement loading chutes built at Victoria, Brazil, to handle minerals are still in existence.

The skeleton of the powerful rubber-producing organization in the Amazon basin is still functioning.

United States customs duties on copper, tin and other Latin American products, and questions of prices, are issues which would be automatically solved in the event stockpiling is resumed.

Actually, all Latin American countries today are eager to begin large-scale shipments to the United States. The acute dollar shortage which has upset the economies of those nations would be thus automatically solved.

Reports from Washington this week said that Argentina was holding up conversations on a 75-million dollar loan from American banks because of that possibility.

was removed to his home and an hour later suffered a second stroke. He was taken to the hospital on Friday.

The deceased was a son of the late Garrett and Sarah (nee Bergey) Detweiler and the husband of Emma (nee Moyer) Detweiler.

In addition to the widow, Mr. Detweiler is survived by three children, Roland M. Detweiler, Souderton, R. D., Mrs. David Weaver, of Silverdale; and Miss Sara Detweiler, at home; two sisters, Mrs. Isaac G. Rosenberger, of Silverdale; and Mrs. Ella Detweiler, Souderton, and two grandchildren.

The deceased was a member of Blooming Glen Mennonite Church.

Descendants of Anthony Haney, who many years ago operated a farm in Ottsville, held their 37th annual reunion in the grove adjoining the Ottsville church, Saturday. It was not until after the death of Anthony Haney that the family began holding reunions.

Anthony Haney was the father of Michael Haney. The son was a blacksmith in his younger days, and later he became a well-known farmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Haney were parents of eight children, and three of them are still living. They are Oscar Haney, Doylestown; Mrs. Levi Huber, Danboro, and Mrs. Charles McEntee, Erwinna.

Supper served in the grove was followed by an informal meeting, during which remarks were made by the Rev. William A. Fluck, Hatfield, some years ago pastor of Christ Evangelical Lutheran Church, Tinicum, and the Rev. Victor Steinberg, pastor of the Reformed congregation in Tinicum. Officers were elected.

The reunion next year will be held at the same place on the third Saturday in July.

about it. Financial backing finally set the pole into production. He already has applied for five patents, all under the name of "Henley's Handy Hangers."

Henley, who lives at 354 Jefferson avenue, was a widely-known speed and acrobatic skater in his youth. In 1925 he represented his native Trenton in the national amateur championships.

The new closet pole is being made by a machine and tool company in Trenton and has gone on sale at a Trenton five-and-ten store.

"It requires no nails or screws, and will not destroy the woodwork," Henley declares. "A child can put it up and it's easy to transport."

Science has finally found its way into the clothes closet, at last.

NOTICE

In the Orphans' Court of Bucks County, Pennsylvania.

RE: Petition of the Trustees of Penns Manor Chapel for leave to sell certain real estate situate in Falls Township, Bucks County, Pennsylvania, and make distribution of proceeds from sale.

To all parties in interest:

Take notice that on June 5, 1950 the petition of Barton S. Ivins, et al., Trustees, was presented to the above Court, setting forth that the Penns Manor Chapel property was originally deeded by Onias Mershon and Amanda Mershon, his wife, to William Ivins, et al., Trustees, said indenture dated August 11, 1886, and recorded in Bucks County in Deed Book No. 229, page 291 &c.,

That the petitioners are the Trustees of Penns Manor Chapel, having been elected in conformity to the provisions of said Deed of Trust;

That said conveyance hereinbefore mentioned, provides, inter alia:

"To have and to hold the said Chapel and Lot of Land herebefore particularly described hereditaments and premises hereby granted or mentioned and intended to be, with the appurtenances unto the said William Ivins, D. Smith Mershon, William Mershon, Ansley Mershon, Robert L. Muschert, and Charles Morris, Trustees of the Penns Manor Chapel, their successors and assigns to and for the only proper use and behoof of the said William Ivins, D. Smith Mershon, William Mershon, Ansley Mershon, Robert L. Muschert and Charles Morris, Trustees of the Penns Manor Chapel, their successors and assigns forever;

In trust nevertheless to the uses upon the trusts and upon the several uses, intents and purposes hereinafter expressed of and concerning the same, that is to say, to hold the said hereinbefore described Messuage, Chapel and Lot of Land forever and keep the same in good order and repair and suffer and permit the same to be used and enjoyed by the citizens and people of the vicinity and neighborhood as a place where Lectures, Sunday Schools and other Religious and Literary Meetings shall and may from time to time hereafter forever be held."

That the particular section referred to by the conveyers as the "neighborhood or vicinity" is that certain part of Falls Township known as Penns Manor or The Manor and of recent years many of the farms in the section have been purchased for large farm and industrial operations, and that there is planned a large industrial steel plant that will completely surround the Penns Manor Chapel property;

That the original purpose of the conveyers will be impractical of fulfillment due to the proposed changes in the Penns Manor vicinity and the trust should be terminated and distribution of the proceeds made as nearly as possible in conformity with the conveyers' original intention;

That the petitioners have received a very advantageous offer for the sale of the property to Manor Real Estate and Trust Company, i.e., $30,000.00, but that no power of sale was given to the Trustees in the original Deed of Trust;

That the price offered is a full and fair price and better than could be obtained at public sale;

That the petitioners have made deligent inquiry and have ascertained that former members of the Penns Manor Chapel have affiliated themselves with various churches and literary organizations, and further feel that the conveyers' original intention would be most closely followed by making distribution in equal parts and shares to the following:

Methodist Church of Morrisville, Pa.
First Presbyterian Church of Morrisville, Pa.
Baptist Church of Morrisville, Pa.
Episcopal Church of Morrisville, Pa.
Methodist Church of Fallsington, Pa.
Episcopal Church of Fallsington, Pa.
Methodist Church of Tullytown, Pa.
Emilie Methodist Church of Emilie, Pa.
Calvary Baptist Church of Bristol, Pa.
Fallsington Free Library of Fallsington, Pa.

Said petition prays for the approval by said Court of the sale to Manor Real Estate and Trust Company and distribution of the proceeds aforementioned.

The Court has fixed Monday, the Seventh day of August, A. D. 1950, at Nine O'Clock A. M., Standard Time, at the Court House, Doylestown, Pa., as the time and place of hearing, at which time and place all parties in interest may attend and be heard.

CHARLES W. ROBERTS, Jr., Attorney for Petitioners.

O God, of whom every fatherhood in heaven and on earth is named, in whose earthly family there is neither Jew nor Greek, male nor female, bond nor free, but only children standing in equal need and equally sharing thy fatherly care; grant that thy Church, being quickened by thy love, may manifest to the world the unity to which thou hast called it in the gospel of thy Son, and by the fellowship of his disciples bring healing to the world. Amen.

2ND WARD WINS OVER FRANKLIN BY SCORE OF 6 TO 3

Second Ward A. C. won its tenth straight game of the Bristol Suburban League last evening on Memorial field, triumphing over Franklin A. C., 6-3, in a well-played game. The triumph increased the Second Ward lead on first place to two full games.

The Warders had 10 safe blows in the tilt while Franklin made seven hits off "Chick" Stansky. It was Stansky's eighth mound win of the season. He has been beaten twice.

Franklin deadlocked the score by counting its third run in the fifth inning but Second Ward clinched the game by registering two in its half of the canto. The runs were scored on a walk, an infield hit, an infield out, and a clean hit to left by Sam Sottille. In the sixth, successive singles by Gene Barbetta, Joe Sallustio, and Gene Garabella produced the final tally.

In the fourth inning, "Dezzy" DeLise, of Franklin, rapped out a home run with "Toby" Oriola on base. Franklin made three of its six hits in this session.

Jack Spencer was the losing moundsman.

ROHM & HAAS FAILS TO HOLD LEAD; LOSES

Rohm & Haas failed to hold a 3-run lead last evening as it bowed to the Hunter-Wilson team, 5-3, in a Bristol Industrial League game on the latter's diamond.

The distillery workers overcame the deficit with one run in the first, three in the third, and another in the fifth. Tom Ruggieri and "Easy" Mama hit doubles in the three-run flare-up in the third.

It was "Charlie" Fischer's triple in the initial frame that gave the chemical mixers the lead.

"Spike" Naylor was the winning pitcher with Trimble being the loser.

Raid Huge Still In Upper Bucks Co.

Louis type" continuous process still, 18 feet tall and 22 inches in diameter; five huge vats for mash, with a total capacity of 24,200 gallons; an upright steam boiler and a fuel oil tank 10 feet long and four feet in diameter.

The sugar was stacked in 115 bags of 100 pounds each. There were 400 pounds of yeast on hand and 450 new 5-gallon cans. In addition, Wills said, the plant had all the miscellaneous equipment usually found in commercial distilleries, even to an electric, propeller-like "agitator" to mix the mash in the vats.

Agents estimated the moonshiners' production costs at $8 a gallon but said the alcohol was sold here and in New York for five times that amount.

The farm, Wills said, "lies buried in the back woods." Segetes, the owner, insisted he knew nothing of what was going on in his barn, which he rented to "outsiders." He was not arrested but Greenfield was held at the Upper Darby police station, near the ATU headquarters, for a hearing at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow before U. S. Commissioner Henry Carr. The raiders seized the sedan in which he had driven to the farm.

In contrast to the "pot stills" used by small-time moonshiners to cook up a few gallons of mash at a time, Wills said, the still seized yesterday can be operated around the clock.

Named after St. Louis bootleggers who developed it during the Prohibition era, the still is fed mash by a pump from the vats. Steam is forced into the still under high pressure and as the alcohol is vaporized out, the "spent mach" is pumped out to a refuse pit. Three or four men would be required to keep the plant in operation, Wills said.

The finished product, which is high quality alcohol, is highly diluted with water before it reaches the consumer—mostly patrons of speakeasies, the investigator said.

Although the cut product does not have an alcoholic content much higher than strong wine, he said, it is colored and treated with pepper to give it an artificial "bite."

NEWTOWN DEFEATS FLANNERY'S EAGLES

PENNDEL, July 26—In a two-extra innings game, Newtown won out over Flannery's Eagles, 4-2, last evening in a Tri-County League game on Memorial field.

The winning runs were scored by Weaver and Titus on "squeeze" bunts by Torbert and Fleming.

"Bill" Gordon was the winning pitcher and "Charlie" Maurer, the loser.

SOUTHAMPTON IN HURLING DUEL WINS OVER VOLTZ NINE

Earl Wagner and "Willie" Wiggins hooked up in a hurling duel last evening on Memorial Park baseball field as Southampton blanked the Voltz-Texaco team, 3-0, in a Tri-County League contest.

Wagner, the Voltz twirler, allowed four hits but two errors spoiled his performance. Wiggins permitted the gasmen six hits and was backed by wonderful support, especially on the part of Duane Davis, the third-sacker.

It was Davis who stopped a Voltz rally in the last frame by a twin-killing and prevented the localites from scoring. Haines had singled and went to second on a hit by Wally Oppman. Harry Eisenbrey sent a line towards left which Davis snared and tossed to Brouilette to double-up Haines. Wagner was passed to load the sacks but Ken Heath fanned to end the tilt.

The Bristolians also passed up a scoring chance in the first. Heath was passed. Walker beat out a hit to short but Heath went out trying for third on the play, D. Davis to L. Davis. Pappaterra was given a walk. Pappaterra was caught off first and in the run-down, Walker went to third and then made a dash for the plate without success, he being thrown out by Fletcher.

In the fourth inning, D. Davis threw out the side and for his night's work had six assists and two putouts.

Crowd of 300 Witnesses Housing of New Pumper

Mr. Schatt continued through the apparatus history, mentioning a model T Ford bought in 1921, on which was the first booster tank (50 gallons) to come into Bucks County. Later models were mentioned, then attention called to the 1950 piece, costing nearly $15,000.

Former Bucks County Fire Marshal, William L. Stackhouse, who at one time served as chief of the local company, was another speaker. Mr. Stackhouse, now assistant county detective, said to the gathering: "Whatever civic groups in this town undertake, the whole town gets behind it." He spoke of the co-operative spirit shown in the building of the fire station years ago; mentioned how a bond issue was floated to build the concrete streets, with "only one person voting against it"; then called to mind the project of the memorial park, adding "and a very fine spot it is." In his reminiscences Mr. Stackhouse mentioned that many years ago each fireman was asked to pay two years dues in advance in order that some new hose could be purchased. He spoke of the important part which the William Penn Co. plays in affairs of Bucks Co. Firemen's Association; then turned attention to the fact that formation of a civilian defense unit is underway in the state and county, and the important part firemen will be called upon to take. "I feel the firemen of Bucks County are able to do their part and will do it well . . . I bring greetings to William Penn Co. from other firemen in the county in the housing of this valuable piece of apparatus."

George Douglass, now past the four-score mark, was introduced as the oldest man in the local company.

The main address of the evening was by Fire Marshal Graham. Mr. Graham addressed the group in this manner: "Ladies and gentlemen of Hulmeville, you can be well proud of your fire company. It is one of the best in the county. It's up to you folks now to get behind these boys and help pay for this fine new apparatus . . . These men carry out their duties as everyday work. There is no pay for it. It's all volunteer." He spoke of the other "heroes"—the wives of the firemen, who clean their husbands' clothing after fires, and who have natural worriment when the husbands and sons are on fire calls, wondering if they will come home safe. "We have the best group of people in the world in the fire service. They are ready to aid any in distress at any time. Now we have before us the atom bomb problem . . . Let us pray God that such will never come." Mr. Graham spoke of how many firemen are among the first to volunteer to aid their country, adding "There is a lot for firemen to do and for other citizens to do to help their country."

The speaker admonished mothers against leaving small children alone at home, recalling some children recently burnt to death under such circumstances. "God gave you those children to love and to protect." Marshal Graham highly congratulated the local firemen on their new piece of equipment.

Musical selections at the fire station and during the parade were rendered by the Penndel String Band, of which Frank Weller is director.

A bouquet of flowers was presented by George R. Bilger, to Mrs. Elwood King, Sr., president of the Ladies Auxiliary.

The new pumper was blessed by the Rev. Father Monahan, of Our Lady of Grace R. C. Church, Penndel.

Presentation of the truck was by Thomas Wheeler, a trustee of the company; with acceptance by Chief Albert Tomlinson. The official housing was by Chief Joseph Diorio, of Penndel Fire Co.

Sandwiches and birch beer were served by a committee headed by George Wheeler.

The bouquet of flowers was sent by the Auxiliary to George LeCompte, who is ill; and a bouquet from the fire company was sent to Mr. and Mrs. Eli M. Peck, who are also confined to their home.

The line of march included: Chief of Police Ernest Maret; color guard composed of members of William Penn and Newport Fire Co., No. 1; car bearing Messrs. Graham, Stackhouse and Illick, driven by Earl Phipps; car bearing Messrs. Steiss, Douglass, and Schatt, driven by Miss Margaret Perry, former president of the Ladies' Auxiliary; Penndel String Band; marching unit of William Penn Co.; new pumper operated by Chief Engineer Bruce Schoenfeld, with Edward Bilger, trustee, and also treasurer of the Firemen's Relief Association, also riding thereon; Bucks County Rescue Squad, Croydon, marching unit, ambulance, floodlight equipment, etc.; Newportville Fire Co., No. 1, apparatus and tank wagon; Newport Fire Co., No. 1, truck and service car; apparatus of Penndel, Langhorne, Parkland Fire companies; William Penn Howe-Chevrolet pumper.

The color guard had among its banners a 38-star American flag which originally belonged to the Soldiers and Sailors Union here about 1868. In 1919 Mrs. Marian Kirk (now deceased) presented it to veterans of World War I at their home-coming celebration. It has since been in custody of Postmaster Edwin W. Henry, Jr.
